Victorious Living for Moms

The second book of the Victorious Living series, "Victorious Living for Moms: Letters to a Mother's Heart" will be released on May 3, 2011.

Victorious Living for Moms is an anthology project sharing personal stories and empowering principles from over 30 women to women around the world with a mother's heart. With transparency, wisdom and wit each writer reaches the heart of mothers who are struggling to find the victory in their situation. Mothers who are dealing with trying to make ends meet, wayward children, children with mental or physical challenges, children who are incarcerated or many of the other issues which mothers deal with on a day to day basis, this book has been created with them in mind.

In this time and season, mothers need much help and support as they journey through life. There are more grandmothers, aunts and sisters raising the children of family members than ever before. Victorious Living for Moms is a book created to celebrate, encourage and support every woman who has the heart of a mother.
